These would include downsizing to condominiums, town homes, mobile homes and apartments that are multi-generational. LICENSED ADULT CARE RESIDENCES

“Assisted living” is now regulated by the state to mean that some “hands-on” personal care services are offered in a NY State Health Department licensed setting in addition to meals, housekeeping and other congregate services.

There are three types of “assisted living” certification in New York State:

1. Assisted Living Residence (ALR)

2. Special Needs Assisted Living Residence (SNALR)

Certification that qualifies a facility to advertise a specialized type of care (e.g., dementia care).

3. Enhanced Assisted Living Residence (EALR)

“Enhanced Assisted Living” certification from the NYS Health Department authorizes an Assisted Living Residence (ALR) to provide aging in place by admitting and retaining residents who:

- a. Are chronically chairfast and unable to transfer, or chronically require the physical assistance of another person to transfer.
- b. Chronically require the physical assistance of another person in order to walk.
- c. Chronically require the physical assistance of another person to climb or descend stairs.
- d. Are dependent on medical equipment and require more than intermittent or occasional assistance from medical personnel; or have chronic unmanaged urinary or bowel incontinence.

“Enhanced Assisted Living” certification allows a residence to offer some or all of these services to a limited number of its residents. If you are concerned about whether you or your loved one may require any of the following services, be sure to ask about the level of care the residence is authorized and willing to provide.

Medicaid Assisted Living Program (ALP)

Those eligible for Medicaid may be able to receive an enhanced level of adult care and rehabilitation services in residences which are licensed as NY State ALP’s (Assisted Living Programs). Currently there are no Medicaid ALP’s in Tompkins County. The following ALP’s are each located within 45 minutes to one hour of Ithaca:
